Summer is More Fun At the Peter Pan Center!

Our same year-round Social Saplings program with convenient summer hours and special themes! Children will learn about community service and helpers when we visit our Police and Fire Departments, can indulge their engineering and construction talents in our future engineers week, explore water, bubbles and rainbows during our water week, tap into their adventurous side when we explore “what’s in the woods,” and learn the basics of business when we sell home-made lemonade during Entrepreneur week! All this while being socially coached by our talented staff and supported by our one-of-a-kind “Owl Program” that supports the development of prosocial behavior and social skills. With our emphasis on small group work our program fills up quickly so contact us TODAY to reserve your spot! ## Registration Form

Summer Social Saplings

This is a five week early childhood (ages 3-6) program running on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings from 9-12:30 facilitated by Kristin Normandin, PPC Social Coach and Marissa Huntington, an Early Childhood Educator. Lonnie R. Ouellette will be available for behavioral consultation. It is designed to incorporate language-based, sensory-motor and gross-motor activities to foster physical development, attending to a speaker, initiating and sustaining peer communicative interactions, and further developing peer referencing skill acquisition in the context of fun cooperative activities. Visual strategies along with positive behavioral supports will facilitate social skill acquisition and social language skill development in structured and unstructured formats. Individual behavioral consultation to each camp participant by Lonnie will occur as warranted for reinforcement programming, behavioral strategies, and interventions that may interfere with social skill acquisition, and the development of prosocial behaviors. Program educators can meet individually with parents to incorporate IEP benchmarks into the program at their request. A parent support, networking, and sharing opportunity will be available weekly at our "Mommy and Me Picnic" (Of course, dads, siblings, and grandparents are welcome too)! The "Mommy and Me Picnic" group will release at 11:00 on Thursdays and reconvene at the playground (or indoors at PPC if weather interferes) where parents and caretakers can see their children apply their social skills and can connect with other families as well! Each week's curriculum and related activities will be designed and developed using a thematic approach.
